

Neutrik Speakon® connector:
this is the better choice for critical installations, because the locking connector avoids accidental disconnection.

Input/link jack sockets (parallel connected):
they are best suited as for mobile (touring) applications or when it is expected to frequently disconnect the system.

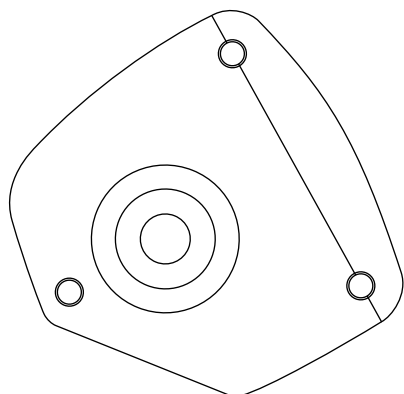

Front view

Side view

Bottom view

Top view

